

REED GIVES BLOOD TO SAVE BROTHER

Hospital Surgeon Fighting To Save Lives of Irvine Tragedy Victims Here

Deputy Sheriff Henry Reed died at the Pattie A. Clay Infirmary as a result of his wounds, shortly after noon Saturday.

Estes' condition is reported as very critical.

Henry Reed, deputy sheriff of Estill county, who is in the Pattie A. Clay infirmary here, as a result of the tragedy at Irvine early Friday morning, may have his life saved through the transfusion of blood, a quantity being transferred late Friday, the injured man's brother, Robert Reed, being the donor and Dr. O. F. Hume physician and surgeon in charge.

It was found that Reed would certainly die of his injuries from the loss of blood, since he had been allowed to go unattended for several hours after the shooting, unless a fresh supply of blood was procured. This came through his brother, and the result is that there is a chance for the man's recovery, according to statements issued from the institution Saturday morning.

George Estes, prisoner of Deputy Sheriff Reed, who was also seriously wounded by bullets during the affray, which terminated in the almost instant death of Marshal Robert Philpot, of Irvine is in a precarious condition, however, the attending physicians hold out a little hope for his recovery. In case he recovers, Estes will be held to the United States authorities, it is said, on a charge of illegally transporting liquor. It is admitted he had more than a gallon of liquor in his suit case at the time of the tragedy.

There are many conflicting reports of the shooting which stirred Estill county as it has not been for years. With the recovery of both Reed and Estes, there remains another man, railway detective Joseph Spivy, who is in the local jail, who will have to answer to serious charges, since it is said to be the intention of residents of Irvine to continue to see that the law is upheld, despite results. They have come to the conclusion that the law will prevail in Estill county, one of the old residents said, at his hazard.

Spivy's Story

Spivy, when seen in the county jail Saturday morning, declared Philpot shot several times, as did Estes. The prisoner stated that Estes had a .32 calibre revolver, and started shooting upon the opening of hostilities, and that he afterwards ran away and fired a shot at Spivy, which caused the latter to draw his revolver, the latter claims, and shoot for the first time. Spivy says he did not shoot Reed, that the deputy sheriff's wounds came through the aim of Officer Philpot. This is a new angle to the affair. Spivy also claims Estes is responsible for the wound in Philpot's back, that the latter and Reed were a grips when the firing started, and that Reed had not been knocked down; that he (Reed) as well as Philpot, was shooting and Estes, the erstwhile prisoner, took advantage of the excitement and ran away after firing the shots.

There is one thing sure, and that is that Marshal Philpot's neck was powder-burned, showing his antagonist was close at hand when the fatal bullet was fired.

Spivy added that Estes positively had a revolver, and the gun was carried to his poolroom together with the suit case, after the trouble. Mrs. Spivy spent some time with her incarcerated husband Friday night. Spivy said he was sorry owing to his wife and children, and in support of his statement that he had been fired upon, displayed a wound in the side, where a bullet from the Estes gun, as he claims, passed through his flesh. A heavy account book, together with a number of letters caused the bullet to diverge, passing out between two ribs at his back. He claims he would have been killed had it not been for the account book, which was pierced by the bullet. He said he had not been given a hearing, and had money for his appearance, if it was not too much.

hibition officers in endeavoring to rid the neighborhood of the bootleggers and that they had called for the prohibition workers, and had assisted these officers when they came, and added that he made enemies, as did Philpot, through their efforts to do away with the whisky-bearing element.

Philpot's Funeral

The funeral of Marshal Philpot took place Saturday morning, at London, his former home, the services being in charge of the members of the lodge of Masons, of which he was a member. There was a large attendance, many old time friends visiting his old home to pay their last respects to one well respected there and who gave up his life in the performance of his duty. There was a profusion of floral offerings. The deceased had been a resident of Irvine for several years, and is said by many to be one of the first officers who faced the dangers of the law in this position and did not fear danger when duty was to be done.

Testimonials as to his worth as an officer were presented by Messrs. J. D. Webb, Sam DeZani, and Albert Rawlins, all watchmen for the L. & N. railway company, who were in the city last Friday night to see detective Spivy, with whom they spent some time at the jail.

The trio of watchmen stated that while there was more or less prejudice against the officer, he being a railway detective, he had recently been doing his duty in a straight forward manner, and they complimented the results of his work.

It develops that during the past month, both Spivy and Philpot had been working extensively in the interest of the prohibition forces of Estill county, they having assisted in locating and cutting up a number of stills. This work, they believe, has increased the hatred which is known some of the bootleggers held toward them. While there are many angles to the case, it is recognized that the element looking for protection in the vicinity of Irvine, respected the officers. Law violators held an ill feeling against them owing to their persistent and generally successful operations. It is said the yards, especially of the railway company at times in the vicinity of Irvine, were visited by many bootleggers and law women, this element showing a tendency often times, to shoot at the watchmen as well as other officers who appeared upon the scene. One of the watchmen stated while here that the vicinity of the depot at recent dates was the scene of considerable lawlessness. Women of ill repute would make it a practice to visit the town during the period covering pay day, and liquor would flow and a general carousal would follow, and it was dangerous for anyone to interfere. However, the persistent work of the officers had worked a great change, and it is said that the liquor element was the only remaining feature of the lawlessness that gave them much trouble. The trio of watchmen to a man, stated they experienced much trouble in preventing the bringing in of whisky and getting the workmen in many branches of the service intoxicated during pay day, and the vicinity has been made a safe place for travelers and visitors who were compelled at times to spend considerable time especially in the vicinity of the depot.

It is contended by many that that both George Estes and his brother, since their arrival in Irvine some time ago, have been suspected of bootlegging. It is said this is one of their reasons for taking rooms in Irvine, while their poolroom is located at Ravenna. George Estes' brother stated that his brother had whisky in his suit case the night of the tragedy, and that he had in all probability gone to a place between Irvine and his home, which is at Evelyn, to procure it. The condition at and in the vicinity of Irvine have been improved since the assistance of the prohibition officers, which has been in evidence for some time. This is another phase of the case which is referred to by many of the residents in speaking of the tragedy, they admitting that many of the lawless element, "had it in" for the officers who were fighting the interests of those dealing in liquor. That there has been a large quantity brought into Irvine and disposed of there is no denial.

LEGION MEMBERS OPENING CAMPAIGN

The arrival of Miller Brothers' circus Monday morning is at hand and this will mark the opening of a campaign for the purpose of obtaining a home by members of the American Legion, who contemplate a series of entertainments during the fall and winter months. The attractions next week, however, will be the most extensive provided, since the bill will continue for a week, and there will be many meetings of the members of the organization for the first time since they parted company in the ranks.

Plans for special attractions have been completed and indications are that the entertainments will be attended by many members and friends of members from other cities. It is understood many delegations will be here from surrounding towns and cities during the week. There will be ample entertainment. The show officials announce the attractions will be "bigger and better" than ever, and everything points to a successful week. The city and county are being well provided with big bills announcing the details of the entertainment, which will be varied as well as extensive.

POFF GIVES BOND AND IS RELEASED

Constable Andy Poff, who shot and killed Jasper Kirby on August 5th, at the Berea fair, was released from jail Saturday afternoon, an uncle, T. J. Kellum, residing near Red House, being his bondsman. Bond in the sum of $5,000 was required and it is known that relatives of the officer have been actively engaged for some time in an effort to procure it. Poff was anxious to leave the county, where he has been since the killing, having been brought here from Berea. He started for his home near Bobtown soon after the papers were signed.

MUNITIONS FOR POLAND ASSURED

Paris, Aug. 21.—Two French cruisers, accompanied by the American cruiser, Pittsburgh, are racing toward Danzig with orders from the French government to "take proper measures" to insure the landing of French munitions destined for Poland, according to the Paris press.

These supplies are those which Sir Reginald Tower, British High Commissioner, has refused to permit to be delivered to the Poles. Belgium definitely has declared her opposition to the policy adopted by France by closing her borders and ports to war material destined for Poland. France immediately responded to this by cutting off all shipments of iron ore to Belgium.

Belgium's firm position, along with that taken by England and Italy, leaves the United States the sole power supporting France in her policy of "no peace until Moscow falls," official assert.

TOBACCO MEN MEET

A number of Madison county tobacco raisers were in attendance Saturday afternoon at the special meeting called for the purpose of hearing from the delegates to the Lexington meeting, where it was voted to veto the cut-out for the 1921 crop. GAME BLOCKED BY ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS

(By Associated Press)
Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 21.—A meeting of the Tennessee House today to clinch the ratification of federal suffrage amendment was blocked by anti-suffrage members, 30 of whom left Nashville last night for Alabama, as to make it impossible to form a quorum today.

Speaker Walker ordered all absent members arrested and brought before the bar of the House.

The suffragists planned today to move reconsideration of the ratification vote of last Wednesday, and then lay the motion on the table, thus preventing further efforts at reconsideration.

When the house met, Suffrage Leader Riddick moved that the house reconsider its concurrence in the senate's ratification of the amendment, but the motion lost, 50-40. The house then ordered the senate joint ratification resolution transmitted to the senate that it might be sent to the engrossing clerk.

Many legal authorities here regard the amendment as wrapped in legal entanglements and say it is a foregone conclusion the counts will have to pass on ratification.

COX MAKES VERY SPIRITED ATTACK

(By Associated Press)

Orville, Ohio, Aug. 21.—Another spirited attack on the "Senate oligarchy" was made here today by Gov. Cox in his address replying to that recently delivered by Senator Harding, in which Harding commended the Senate to the form of popular government.

"Harding fails," said Gov. Cox, "to distinguish between the Senate as an institution, and a list of Senators, who have taken charge of the important part of the government."

Continuing his attacks upon the republican campaign contribution, Cox declared "Greedy interests, which are making contributions, have been in notorious concert with Senatorial oligarchy."

WHY ARE WORKMEN LAID OFF? ASKS COX

Columbus, O., Aug. 21.—Governor Cox said yesterday that he is going to investigate circumstances surrounding the laying off of workmen in various industries following receipt of alleged information that republican leaders are planning to use "unemployment" as an argument in persuading workmen to vote against the democratic ticket.

The presidential nominee said the survey will first be directed at the American Woolen Company and a "certain railroad system."

Gov. Cox said he had been informed that 1,000 men had been laid off in one Toledo plant alone for "political purposes."

SPEEDERS FINED IN POLICE COURT

Another One Pays For Admitting Stock To Run At Large In City Limits

There was a short and busy session of the city court Friday night, when a number of fines were assessed as a result of breaches of the peace, most of the allegations being admitted by the defendants, there being but little evidence necessary to effect a conviction. One of the first to be disposed of was that of C. Chenault, charged with allowing his cow to graze along the highways within the limits of the city. Cy said he was guilty, and City Judge G. Murray Smith said $2 and costs, which were paid. The police are endeavoring to prevent the city being transformed into a pasture field, if possible, there having been a number of complaints registered by residents in various parts of the city recently.

Katie Deatherage, colored and cussin', was arrested while disposing of some very choice language, with the result that she parted company with a $10 bill after she had admitted to City Judge Smith that she suspected she was guilty. Katie admitted also that she had been aggravated. The court held that this did not admit of using obscene language in public. Katie proffered the payment of the fine and said she knew it did not pay.

Ben Yates paid a fine of $20 for "letting out" an automobile while on the public highway, all of which was to such an extent that the speed law looked like a farce. However, things looked different when the police had their inning. The officers, as stated some time ago, were preparing to stop this speeding feature connected with the operation of motor vehicles, and they are making a good start.

Robert Watts also liquidated to the extent of $40 as a result of forgetting there was such a thing as a speed law in Richmond, for he entered a plea of guilty, and was informed that the next time there would be some additional trimmings added to the fine. Watts said he did not think there would be another time, which pleased the court.

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful.

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night... I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui...

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again... I decided I would try Cardui... By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well. If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial.

DE-GARMO MEETINGS

The largest attendance yet at the Calvary Baptist church, this city, heard Evangelist DeGarmo Friday evening preach from his subject: "Is God the Father of Sinners?" The subject was handled in a masterly way and those present gave most excellent attention throughout the entire service.

"Teaching children to call God their father before they accept Jesus as their Savior is the hottest of infidelity," declared the evangelist, "and all Catholics, many Baptists and all other denominations are guilty of teaching this erroneous doctrine." Continuing he said, "If God is the Father of saint and sinner alike He has already sent one of His children to hell and we have heard from him." One of the three texts he used was: "But as many as received Him, to them He gave power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on His name."—John 1:12. He then asked the question: "If men are already sons of God, how can they 'become' sons of God? They are not sons of God until they accept Jesus Christ as their Savior. 'Ye are all children of God through faith in Jesus Christ.'—Gal. 3:26. His logic is unanswerable, and his interpretation and familiarity with the Bible is superb.

Singer Elsey sang, "Will the Circle be Unbroken?" with great effectiveness. The congregational singing was the best of the meeting. The singing is improving each night. "Hell" will be the subject for Saturday night. The evangelist says that he will prove there is a hell so convincingly that no one will attempt to deny it. The services for Sunday are as follows: At 11 a. m., subject, "Rewards in Heaven;" at 3 p. m., a mass meeting at the court house for men and boys only; at 7:30 p. m., subject, "What shall I do to be saved?"

Methodist Church Service
 Bible School at 9:45; morning service at 11 o'clock; preaching by the pastor, Epworth League at 6:30; evening service at 7:30.

GREEN CLAY WRITES ON TOBACCO SITUATION

Mr. Green Clay, of this city, had the following interesting letter on the tobacco situation in the Lexington Herald Friday:

The Burley Situation
Editor, Lexington Herald:

Good business sense dictates the cessation of unprofitable production. When the production of tobacco ceases to be profitable common prudence will stop its production. We have grown tobacco because it has proved profitable in the past years.

It is the misfortune of the tobacco grower that he cannot, at this time, place a market value on his finished product, just as it is his misfortune that he cannot place a market value on his grain and livestock. Whether he will be able to dictate to any degree what he will or will not sell his products for rests entirely with him.

He who manufactures a half dozen shirts at a cost of $12 will sell those shirts for $12 plus a profit or make no more shirts of that grade. He goes out on strike, he cuts out production. Never yet has he undertaken to induce any one to hand over $12 plus his profit by force of arms. Neither has he burned his competitors' factories or scraped his pattern machines. That is not business sense. Instead he had tried making cheaper or better shirts and he has tried combination with his competitors.

There can be no lasting benefit derived from a cut-out of the 1921 crop of tobacco, should it prove 100 per cent successful, for the reason that during the year 1921 tobacco that will serve if not satisfy will spring up in sections of the United States that never before saw a tobacco plant. This 100 per cent cut-out would necessitate an agreement in good faith prior to the close of the coming tobacco selling season, a sufficient number of days before seed-sowing time to allow the industry to spring up in new places.

Believing that no tobacco will be grown in Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Tennessee or Virginia, capital invested in the manufacture and sale of the finished product and farmers in other than what is known as tobacco states, seeing that the customary ground will no longer produce, will make successful effort to fill the vacuum. That will be good business.

Just at this time, especially in the burley district of Kentucky, tobacco has been the direct cause of high-priced land and the expenditure of vast sums of money in barns and equipment. This is a serious interference to a successful cut-out. We do not believe tobacco-raising is a money-losing proposition. If we did there would be no talk of a cut-out. You will find that agitation for a cut-out of the 1921 tobacco crop meets with general disapproval because it is not good business sense an because of the danger of a repetition of the night rider troubles. This nation has enough of disruption right now. The addition of upheaval among farmers.
